NEW BOSTON PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

New Boston is to take another big step in the way of public improvements. The village council Monday night ordered the engineer to get busy at once establishing grades of all streets so the work of improving them by paving could proceed. The engineer was also ordered to bring in legislation authorizing the alley improvements.

Four short streets which are not paved are to be paved this year. They are: Taft, Pennsylvania, York and Milldale. The engineer was instructed to bring in estimates on the cost of paving and the solicitor was ordered to bring in the necessary legislation authorizing the street improvements.

Several new sewers are being built.

A big storm sewer in Stewartville has been started. A sewer will also be built in Lakeside and in the alley between Rhodes and Gallia in Millbrook addition.

William Middaugh of the New Boston School Board, appeared before council and asked for lights, water and two toilets for the village playgrounds. Council ordered the plea granted.

The appointments by Mayor Newberry of Jacob Deemer and Stanley Jackson as firemen and Tom Harris as deputy marshal, were confirmed.

The solicitor was also ordered to bring in an ordinance whereby fines collected for liquor law violations, will go into the village treasury instead of them going to the state.

N. & W. TO HAVE NEW ENTRANCE TO COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., July 18.—Many years ago Columbus people began to dream of the removal of the Norfolk and Western railway tracks in the East end. Legislation was even begun, to that end, a dozen years ago. But the project, which was a dream of impossible things, Monday night, the dream began to come true. Council, with every hope of agreement, will speed the enterprise toward realization.

The tracks, from a point just south of Atchison street, or, as it is now called, Maryland avenue, to the south line of Main street, will be eliminated. They will not be elevated, to bridge the streets they now cross at grade. They will be completely erased from their present location and new tracks will be laid in a right of way that will swing outside of the city 1000 feet east of Bexley.

Two miles of old tracks will be taken up. More than five miles of new tracks will be laid. The old tracks send roaring and striking trains through the heart of the East side, across seven prominent streets at grade, and across many lesser ones, menacing the lives of hundreds daily. The new tracks will curve through a deep cut, from 14 to 25 feet in depth, and most of the streets, with only a slight rise of their gradients, will cross over the tracks. Elevation of the old tracks where they now lie, in a scheme of overhead crossing, would increase the noise and dirt the trains make. They will be silenced and hidden, for the most part, in the new semi-ground, right-of-way outside the city limits.

The railway company will pay for the construction of the new line, and up to $400,000 of the cost of buying the new right-of-way, which will be approximately $600,000.

The remaining $200,000 of this amount will be paid by the Columbus Public Improvement Co., in return for which it will receive the old right-of-way, after it is subdivided, will reimburse the Columbus Public Improvement Co., for its expenditure on the new right-of-way.

On His Way To Tow In His Brother's Car
When His Own Auto Is Wrecked

Clifford Mowery of 2113 Seventh street was injured about the abdomen Sunday afternoon when his touring car turned over on the side of Gallia, just east of Wheelersburg. Mowery was on his way to tow in his brother, Eugene Mowery, who had a slight accident with his machine a little further east on Gallia. The steering gear on Clifford's machine broke and before he could stop the car it went down a ten foot embankment and into a field, the machine turning over twice.

Blake's uncle, E. Blake, happened to be nearby and he went to the assistance of his nephew. Dr. S. S. Halderman was called and he removed the car. An X-ray of the collarbone was taken by Virgil Fowler this morning and this afternoon the fracture was reduced.

THE CHARGE IN A NUTSHELL

Two miles of Norfolk & Western railway tracks will be removed from their present location between Atchison street and Main street.

A new right of way, five miles long, to swing the tracks east of the city will be built.

The new track will serve east from the edge of the infirmaries grounds, proceed around Bexley, paralleling Janssopike about two-fifths of a mile west of it, thence northward through Shepherd, by the side of the T. & O. C. tracks, to its present yards.

Council will vote $328,000 as its share in the project. The railroad company will pay $400,000 of the cost of the new right of way, and the Columbus Public Improvement Co., will pay $200,000 of this cost, receiving the old right of way in return.

The work will require about two years to complete.

It will be the most important railway grade crossing elimination program in the city's history and one of the most important in recent years in the middle west.

The new tracks will pass under most of the important streets they now cross at grade, the new right of way to be in a cut varying in depth from 14 to 25 feet. It will pass over Livingston avenue and Leonard; Nelson Road and Fifth avenue, but under Main and Broad and several others centrally located.

two had started on the elopement June 14.

Returning to a discussion of his family, the prisoner said that his heart had changed toward his family on his return. He said that he wanted his children to be with him.

"I don't know whether the law will let me have them again, but I would rather go to prison, than to hell, I am willing to prove, to the world that I am a true man, and that my motives were not base."

Culp said that his mother, Mrs. Amos Culp, and his father who are separated, live in Napline, Indiana, and that his mother had turned against him. "She declared that I and Esther should go to jail," he told the court.

In closing his statement, Culp said: "I know my wife still loves me, and I will try to bring her back to me. Hereafter, I will do all in my power to help humanity."

At the conclusion of Culp's statement, the prosecuting attorney, J. K. Williamson, arose for a brief remark. "Some times the heart of the prosecutor goes out to the prisoner," said the prosecutor, "but this is not true in the case at hand. This man asked his wife to go down into the shadow of death nine times to give him children. I never before asked the limit be given in any case, but I do ask it today."

She's A Big Little Girl But She's Well Trained. "Allyse", The Big Hippopotamus With the Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus That Just Can't Help "Shimmying" When The Big Band Begins To Swing Into A Jazzy Syncopation.

Among the trained animal acts that the majestic Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus will bring here Friday, July 28 none will be more interesting than the feats of the pumas, which are said to have been trained with remarkable skill.

The puma, cougar, or panther as it was called by the early settlers of western part of the United States, is of the great cat family and generally is from six to eight feet long from the tip of the nose to the tip of the tail.

A century ago, this animal was very plentiful in the states, but now it is rarely met east of the Allegheny Mountains. It may still be found in the Appalachian ranges and in the wilder parts of the Middle West. In southern California, western Oregon and several other districts, a constant war is waged upon the species by the owners of cattle and sheep, in the hopes of exterminating the beast.

Trained animal acts are outstanding features of the program this season and with the equestrian acts the exhibition is said to surpass all ever accomplished by a circus.

Will Blanton Killed, Son Wounded, And Gun User Shot In Affray Near Grayson, Ky.

Will Blanton, 43, brother-in-law of Mrs. Margaret Shuster, and De White Phipps of 3165 Walnut street, East Portsmouth, was shot and killed, and his son, Warner, 22, was seriously wounded in the right side of the neck in a shooting scrape that took place on Wilson Creek, seven miles from Grayson, Ky., last Saturday night. Paul Heron, 35, charged with the shooting, is in a hospital at Ashland suffering with a bullet wound in his right thigh.

The shooting is said to have taken place when young Blanton, who was a deputy sheriff, arrested a man by the name of Booth on a charge of cutting another man. Blanton's father was with him, and it is claimed several men attempted to take Booth away from the Blantons when the shooting started.

Blanton and Heron were the only two in the crowd that had guns and both used them during the mixup.

Will Blanton was shot through the heart and he died almost instantly. Heron fired a second and third time and these shots struck young Blanton, who also fired at Heron at about the same time, two shots hitting Heron, who was later arrested and taken to Ashland.

The Blanton family was well known in the Grayson neighborhood. The funeral was held Monday with Mrs. Shuster and Mr. Phipps attending.

ELECTION BOARD OPEN EACH NIGHT

On his low bid of $225 Charles Grice 724 Ninth street, was awarded the contract of painting ten portable voting booths by the Board of Elections at its meeting Monday night. There were six other bidders.

The board has made arrangements to keep its quarters open from seven to eight o'clock each evening from now until the August primaries for the convenience of absent voters.

Official ballots for the August primaries have been delivered to the board and the tickets are now stored in the election rooms in the Kricker building under guard.

The address of candidates are on the ballots this year for the first time. On account of several candidates by the same name being on the ballot it was necessary to distinguish them by putting on their addresses. According to Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith by placing the addresses on the ballots all candidates will be treated alike and the voter's task of locating the men on the ballot they wish to vote for will be made easier. The practice of placing the addresses on the ballots is a new one for Ohio although it has been used in other states for sometime.

DEMONSTRATES GUN; SHOTS WOMAN

Mrs. Catherine Jamison, 22 years old, is in Merry hospital and may die as a result of a bullet wound which she sustained shortly after four o'clock Sunday afternoon when a "bang" in the hands of James Hardin, 25 years old, New Boston brick worker, was accidentally discharged, it is claimed.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. William Jamison-Hardin, Front and Scioto streets, in the presence of the victim's husband, Floyd Jamison, and a number of others who had gathered in the living room. The weapon was a .22 caliber Smith and Wesson revolver, which Jamison had bought from his father, who is a special officer at the Dip Inn and the firing of the shot happened while Hardin was demonstrating to Jamison the proper way to strap the holster on his body. According to Hardin's story to the police, and his statements were substantiated fully by other witnesses, he buckled the holster on his own body and on being handed the gun slipped it into the holster, quickly withdrawing it and pointing it in the direction of Mrs. Jamison, who was sitting on aavenport reading a book, pulled the trigger.

Mrs. Jamison shot. Instantly a shot rang out and Mrs. Jamison exclaimed, "My God, I'm shot."

A glance convinced those present that she was seriously wounded and she was promptly sent to the hospital where an examination disclosed that the bullet had entered below the right shoulder blade, ranged downward, penetrated the right lung and lodged in the abdomen. The patient spent a restless night and Tuesday, her chances of recovery were regarded as extremely slim.

Hardin, who promptly surrendered to the police, and is being held at the city jail for investigation, insists that the shooting was wholly accidental, declaring there had not been the slightest trouble between him and the Jamisons.

He claims that he did not know that the gun was loaded and to a Times man Tuesday morning expressed regret over the unfortunate occurrence.

Tells How It Happened

Explaining his presence at the Jamison home Hardin said he went there during the noon hour to see his two children, who live with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jamison-Hardin, and claimed that he was just preparing to leave when Floyd Jamison came in with the revolver and asked him to examine it. He stated that he snatched the pistol several times when it was first handed to him and that it was not loaded then but was later loaded by Floyd who put the cartridges in at a time when he was not looking.

A scuffle followed between Hardin and Jamison for possession of the gun following the firing of the shot when Jamison flew into a rage of discovering that his wife had been shot. Jamison told the police later that he lost control of himself and failing to obtain the weapon, which he threatened to turn on Hardin, struck the latter in the face.

The police investigation has led to the theory that the shooting was a case of careless handling of the pistol, not knowing it was loaded, and Hardin will probably be released from custody if nothing further develops to warrant holding him longer.

Mrs. Jamison, victim of the shooting, is the mother of three children, Charles S., Donald D., and Paul S. months. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Shaw, who reside two doors west of their daughter's home on Front street. She was married six years ago.

Hardin formerly lived at Scioto Furnace and is separated from his wife, who, he claims, deserted him and their two children last February.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

POOR little George Guinea-Pig was unhappy. He was tired of being made fun of because he had no tail. So one day he went to the house of Dr. Snuffles, the fairyman doctor, and told him his troubles.

"Is there anything I can do?" he asked. "Is there any medicine I can take that will grow me a tail?" "Nothing I know of," answered the kind little doctor. "Nancy, Nick, did you ever hear of anything good for growing tails?"

The Twins said they had never heard of anything. So George paddled off home again to the old box beside the hen-house. He felt so unhappy his tears dropped from his funny little black shoe-button eyes.

"Oh, me, oh, my!" he wailed. "I'd be the happiest person in the world if only I had a tail."

Now old Oscar Owl had heard the whole thing and he cooked up a plan. "I see where I got two meals to-night instead of one," he hooted. "Little Filipy Fieldmouse just got done telling his mama he was tired of his long tail because it was always giving away his hiding-hole. I'll telephone to both of them."

So he called up the hen-house and asked Mrs. Leghorn please to get George Guinea-Pig to the telephone. George came at once.

"This is a friend," croaked Oscar Owl. "I know where you can find a tail. Come to the edge of Whispering Forest under the old hickory tree at eight sharp."

"I'll be there!" squeaked George happily. Then Oscar called up the Fieldmouse. Only he told Flop that he knew how he could lose his tail—which was more like the truth.

SPENT HALF HER TIME IN BED

Farmer's Wife Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman

Carter's Creek, Tenn. — "Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. You may publish this letter as I am ready to do anything to help women as I have been so well and happy since my troubles are past." — Mrs. E. T. GALLOWAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn.

Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest virtue seems a mountain. If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a trial.

WHOM SHALL MOLLY MARRY?

BILLY TURNS DON FROM HIS DESIGN TO KILL WHEELER

BY ZOE BECKLEY

THE men leaped upon Don and from Molly's lips broke a scream of terror: "Billy! Oh, Billy—for God's sake, don't!"

It was such a cry from the heart such a betrayal of instinctive clothes that even in their spring toward the maddened Don both men felt the shock of realization.

Billy stopped instantly. Ben Wheeler, carried by momentum, was yet enough startled to miss his aim by an inch. He lurched over a chair and crashed to the floor.

Don had swiftly stepped aside and was standing over Wheeler, grinning down. His pale face was ugly with malice.

"I'm going to pay you a compliment, my hardware maker," jeered Don. "I'm believing you got a shot in your locker that hurts as much as any bullet."

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Millhuff and Miss Ivy Lewis of Canton were the Sunday guests of Mrs. Nannie Millhuff of Harrison street, Sedotville.

Miss Dorothy Fluk of Akron returned home Sunday, after spending a week's vacation with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Marsh of Eleventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Frederick and children, motored to Poland, near Youngstown, on Saturday to visit Mr. Frederick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Frederick, Sr., and will return home today.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

Women have often been reminded that it is easier to catch a husband than to hold one. Statistics have proved how true this is.

The Darina woman never has the comfortable feeling she has captured her man and that now he belongs to her. For as soon as she ceases to be agreeable to him he may sell her and take unto himself another.

Thus the wife must guard against losing her charm.

How to Rid the Arms of Objectionable Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)

A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths and rarely is more than one treatment required: Mix a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real delatone.—Advertisement.

"I guess you realize what that cry of Molly's meant, eh? Came from her heart, didn't it? It means, my dear chap, that when there's time to save only one skin, she instinctively chooses Billy."

"Oh, Don!" Molly's voice was anguished for Ben. "Surely I can speak for myself."

"You have already," said Don in a strained voice. "And don't think it's easy for me—for me—"

The first sign of wavering showed in his manner. Up toward his voice, steady in control, shook as he stopped speaking.

Billy Barton stepped up to him and held out a hand.

"Come, Don, give me that fool gun and stop this insanity."

The two eyed each other in a grapple of wills. Ben Wheeler rose slowly to his knees and, as Don paid no attention, stood up, his face going pale and red by turns. Wheeler took one step toward Don, his fists clenched and ready, but Billy wheeled upon him.

"Here, Wheeler, this thing's over—if you keep out of it!"

For Don had fallen away from Billy, his whole body showing the collapse of abnormal tension. When he spoke, his voice shook like a frightened child's.

"Molly—you've taken the heart out of me!"

With a quick, decisive movement, Billy ran his arm through Don's and turned him toward the door.

"Thank your God she did, Don. It was a murderer's heart. Now go down to the roadster and wait for us, that's a good scout."

And from Don's pocket Billy took the revolver that had hung over their lives. With it went the last of Don's courage. His body began to shake as with ague.

"That—that cursed fromaster! I have sent to jail if I—don't finish the job," he quavered.

"Don't worry—he won't," reassured Billy, the gun safely stowed in his pocket. Wheeler gave a harsh laugh.

"Don't be too sure," he muttered, "except that prison's too good for that shivering fool!"

he wheeled: "Sergeant, I haven't a theory, a suspicion, an idea of a possible solution! The whole thing is monstrous, incredible! If I believed in the Evil Eye—"

He left the sentence unfinished and Owen Miles smiled slightly once more.

"But science has proved the existence of the modern equivalent of the Evil Eye, hasn't it, sir? Isn't that what you're getting at?"

"You mean hypnotism, of course? It seems too bizarre a thought to entertain seriously. If these three brothers are not the victims of some strange drug self-administered or otherwise, which is slowly driving them mad, what possible alternative explanation is there?"

The detective rose also and picked up his hat from the desk. "We shall see."

The afternoon was well advanced when Sergeant Owen Miles approached the long line of glistening greenhouses near a country club and then paused as a heavy voice hailed him from the golf links. Turning he beheld a stocky, robust figure clad in golfing clothes striding vigorously toward him.

"What the dickens—" Miles stared as they clasped hands. "Scottie, what's come over you that you are fooling around with the idle rich at a country club?"

"Didn't you hear, Owen, my lad?" Ferguson McCready beamed jocosely on his youthful friend. "This community has seen fit to take me up social like, and I've taken up my own national game to keep in shape."

"I've got a bigger game on than golf, Scottie, and I hope you would like to take a hand in it with me."

He paused suggestively and Scottie rose to the bait.

"What is the case, laddie?"

"When the story was concluded he remarked briefly:

"I'm with you. It may be a madhouse we're going to but it sounds to me like something very different."

GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER II

I HAVE never encountered so strange a case," John Wells remarked when the office door closed behind their young client.

"I have been the attorney for Robert Drake and his sister Jerusha for the past twenty years and their affairs are in perfect shape." The attorney sat back in his chair and placed the tips of his fingers reflectively. "Roger's brilliant scientific career speaks for itself, and Andrew made a big financial success of his sheep ranch. I had known his family years ago but not intimately."

"They held themselves aloof from the neighbors with the bitter pride of poverty which resents the memory of past affluence."

"I should like to know how they impressed you before prosperity returned to them," the detective asked.

"I want to guess what changes the past twenty years have made in their several characters. It's evident from the widely different careers which they chose that the three brothers are as far apart in temperament as the poles."

"They always were," Wells remarked reminiscently. "Roger, is the oldest of the family—he must be about forty-eight—and except in outward appearance, he has changed the least, in my estimation. He was always a dreamer, a shy sort of youth."

Andrew, a year or two younger, was just the opposite; boisterous and fun-loving, and more sociable than any of the rest. Jerusha—Miss Drake—comes next. She was dignified and austere even as a mere girl."

"What of the third brother, the father of the young lady?"

"There you will find the greatest change, Sergeant." The attorney spoke hastily and in a more confidential tone as if to make amends for his implied suggestion. "Hobart was a drab, colorless young bank clerk at twenty-three, wholly without ambition to get out of the rut. Now he is a dynamic force on the stock and until this unfortunate episode the leading citizen of his community. I cannot believe that his sanity is in question, much less that all three brothers should be attacked at virtually the same time! I feel that there must be some other explanation."

The attorney pushed back his chair and rising, moved to the window where he stood for a moment. Then

IS THERE ANY JOKE IN WHAT HAS DESCENDED UPON US?

"Everything is quite satisfactory," William, she said, after he had answered the routine questions. "I will show you to your room and Pierre will have some supper prepared for you in the servants' dining room."

Carter, the butler, reappeared and led the way up two flights of back stairs to a small but immaculate room at the side of the house. Miles waited until he heard the other's footsteps descending the stairs, before he extinguished the light and raised the shade.

As he looked across the grounds, a shuffling male figure strolled down the drive. It was assuredly neither the round chief nor the elderly, dignified figure. Could it be the "outside man" or was there an eavesdropper, an interloper hanging about the place?

Descending to the ground floor, Miles wandered out through the entry and across the driveway.

The hour was growing late and it was probable that he would have no opportunity that night to encounter the three brothers. Miles turned just as the shuffling figure came sauntering around the bushes.

"What you doin' here?" The negro's teeth were chattering in his head.

"Who are you?" Miles countered amiably. "I'm William Brown, the new houseman."

"Dat's de truth? I'm Ripides Lunt."

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Multisil coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisil in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rises out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisil coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisil. —Advertisement.

DO YOU GET UP IN THE MORNING FEELING TIT AS A FIDDLE?

Success in Life Often Times Depends Upon Starting the Day Right

TO BOUNCE out of bed feeling fresh as a daisy; to greet the little one prancing before you with a happy laugh, to see him high with firm, steady hand, and actually dance with the very joy of living!

Then plunge into your morning tub, if that's your method, dress with a smile on your lips and a song in your heart. Come with firm step to the breakfast table, eager for its wholesome fare—

And you spread joy in your household and go forth into the world "fit to fight," equipped with that most powerful of all weapons, great good health. For health is surely yours and YOU do not need Tanlac.

But how different if you arise unrefreshed, aching in every fibre, unmoved by the healthy laughter of the household. The long day ahead will seem to you an eternity, promising nothing but misery, and you just have to summon all your will power and what little energy remains to you, to drag yourself up, dress and take your part in the daily round, without appetite, at your breakfast table. Gloom, discouragement and casts its depressing pall about your whole family circle, and you go out to the battle of life already hopelessly beaten. YOU need Tanlac!

And, oh! how many thousands experience this wretched state! Far and wide the wail is heard from those who have been out of bed with the greatest effort and wonder if there is nothing that can bring the health that will make them feel "fit as a fiddle" in the morning. They need Tanlac!

What is the matter? Why are they all tired out in the morning? The answer is simply that their systems are clogged with waste poisons from the waste substances that have been stored up because the digestive and eliminative organs have not performed their proper functions. And the reason for all this is that too much hastily eaten food has been piled into the stomach.

When you feel yourself getting up in the morning unrefreshed, listless, and with the symptoms of stomach trouble, such as dizziness, nervousness, bad taste in the mouth and biliousness. You may be constipated, too, and your liver sluggish or torpid. Unusual skin pallor, loss of weight, loss of appetite and inability to sleep restfully, are Nature's warnings, and you must look to your digestive system or be in danger of drifting into some serious disease.

The natural action of Tanlac on the digestive, secretory, assimilative and eliminative organs is the certain safeguard to your health, and the never failing foe of that awful tired feeling when you get out of bed in the morning. Tanlac has proved to be the best and safest tonic and system purifier, stimulating the digestive system to its proper functioning, so the blood is able to take up fresh building material and is so vitalized as to be able to more thoroughly eliminate the waste products which make you feel all dried out.

The cells of all parts of the body then receive real healthy nourishment, the shrunken tissues are filled out, the skin regains its glowing texture and the bloom of health. The eye clears, and with the strong and normal digestion the whole system is built up to the point where your hours of sleep are truly refreshing, and you get up in the morning feeling "fit as a fiddle."

It seems the sheerest folly for anyone to feel all tired out in the morning when Tanlac affords the best and most natural means of keeping in good trim or bringing the system back to its full and normal powers.

Huntington Anxious For Blair And Kearney To Meet In Ring

The Huntington Herald-Dispatch has had the following to say relative to the much talked of bout between "Nig" Blaig and Mike Kearney:

The proposed Nig Blaig-Mike Kearney go which has been going the rounds in little circles lately still remains the chief topic of discussion in Flitiana, now that the twelve round slapping bee between Bob Martin and Bill Brennan is a thing of the past. That there is a chance of bringing together Blair and the welterweight champ of West Virginia at the Cliff-side Park on Labor Day is arousing a jural of excitement round about and is causing a ripple of joy to spread among the fight folks of the neighborhood. Everybody down to the newborns are all "het up" over the idea of signing the two welter for a twelve round rock 'em and sock 'em exhibition and it is believed that if they could be brought together that the match would draw every fight fan in the tri-state region to the cliffside casino.

It is true. If two such high powered mitt slingers could be landed in the same roped area of canvas it would be one of the toughest fights ever seen in this neck-of-the-woods and would draw fans from all parts of West Virginia and Kentucky. Blair and Kearney are in their prime now and are both favorites with the home fans.

Both Nig and Mike are evenly matched and each has seen enough service in the ring to make a full fledged member of the give and take fraternity. Youth, skill and cleverness are all great assets to any fighter but without experience no lad can hope to gain many laurels. But Nig and Mike have plenty of years behind their good right and left mitts and have plenty of skill and cleverness. Ever since a bout between them was mentioned each man has been anxious to get at the other and it is rumored that Blair has been in constant training. It would be a case of one good man against another good man and it would be hard for the goose-bone prophet to predict the winner. Of course when two such classy knights of the ring climb through the hemp and begin throwing their knuckles at each other with the brutal intentions of laying his opponent out the affair is bound to terminate rather suddenly.

Blair, a regular tiger when in the ring, is a tough man to cope with and carries a stiffening punch in both paws that is dangerous to any ambitious lad. During his career, in which he has established a knockout record that is envied by every fighter in the welterweight class, he has met some of the toughest men that have ever worn a pair of trunks and the greatest majority of them have ended with a sickening punch before the performance had gone half its length. Although Nig is not a one punch fighter he uses no ceremony in finishing up his opponent and his motto is "The quicker the better."

Arrest Due To Mistake

Herbert Cole, who was arrested by the police last Saturday night in connection with the alleged theft of an automobile found in his possession belonging to E. D. Hennesberger of North Tonnawanda, N. Y., was released from custody Monday when the owner arrived in Portsmouth and absolved the accused from all blame.

Following his release Cole strenuously denied that he stole the machine, declaring that he borrowed it, and that the warrant for his arrest was issued through a misunderstanding because he had been absent longer than he anticipated, the delay being due to engine and tire trouble.

Hennesberger readily accepted this explanation and expressed a desire not to press the charge further and the prisoner was released. The men returned to New York in the car Tuesday.

Warren Cole, son of Herbert Cole, who made the trip here with his father, was in no way connected with the case and he was not arrested as was erroneously reported.

Duty Of Democrats To Restore Ohio, Says Johnson

CLEVELAND, O., July 18.—"It is the duty of the Democratic party to restore Ohio to sane and sensible methods of government," said Judge Johnson declared he found his candidacy on the "astounding incapacity" of the present Republican legislature and administration to deal with problems of which they pledged solution.

"The people of Ohio also have the spectacle of candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor going about the state accusing each other of using extravagant and forbidden means to accomplish their ends and of having the ulterior motive of serving the purposes of interests contrary to the public good," Judge Johnson said.

After a day spent in campaign plans, Judge Johnson pronounced himself highly satisfied with the state situation.

John Shore, Handel's trumpeter, invented the tuning fork in 1711.

NEW BORN BABY IS STRANGLED BY ITS MOTHER

Body Hidden In Suit Case; Confession Made, Says Sheriff

Fear that she would be driven from the home in which she was employed is given by Mrs. Edith Humphreys not quite 20 years old of near Latham, Pike county, as the reason for killing her newborn daughter by tying an apron string around its neck and putting the body in a suit case and discovered from last Friday afternoon to Monday afternoon. Discovery of the body, the girl's immediate confession that the body was placed in the suit case by herself was followed by her arrest late Monday night. Sheriff Chambers McClay and Deputy Daniels of Waverly taking the girl into custody after a post mortem examination showed how the baby met death. She is now in the Waverly jail. The Sheriff and his prisoner arrived there about four o'clock this morning. The finding of the baby's body and the girl's arrest soon became known in Benton township and the entire community became stirred as it never had been before. This morning when it became known the young woman was in the county jail all Waverly started talking of this as one of the most unusual cases ever recorded in the annals of Pike county history.

The young woman was to be arraigned late this afternoon before Judge Squire Brown of Waverly and according to Sheriff McClay would have to face a charge of murder.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 18.—Wall street was inclined to take a more hopeful view of the coal and railroad strike today judging from the higher range of prices at the outset of the stock market. Crucible Steel was the spectacular feature, opening at a gain of 2½ points which was extended to seven points in the next few transactions. Gulf States Steel rose 1½ points and American Can 1½ points with large fractional advances for Baldwin, Mexican Petroleum and several of the foreign utility and specialty stocks. Rails were mostly higher, though within narrow limits. Foreign exchanges were firm, aside from German marks, which reacted slightly.

Crucible reacted 2½ points from its early maximum but Gulf States Steel extended its rise. Advances of one point each were made by Bethlehem, American and United States Steel. Standard Oil rose 2 points to the year's best price. Mexican oils continued to move forward with domestic issues, including California Petroleum and Pacific Oil. American Can, General Electric, Pressed Steel, and American and Baldwin Locomotives made gains of 1 to 2½ points. Coppers, tobacco and rubbers strengthened with some of the food specialties. New York Central, Union Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio compressed the firm rails. Call money opened at 3 per cent.

Steele, equipments and a wide assortment of other industrial and kindred issues registered extreme gains of 2 to almost 7 points in today's stock market, rails alone showing little improvement. Sales approximated 650,000 shares. The closing was strong.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Absence of any definite indication of progress toward settlement of rail strike led to upturn in wheat prices today during the early transactions. Bulls put stress too on estimates that 700,000 to 1,000,000 bushels had been taken for Europe on yesterday's decline in the market. On the other hand, weather conditions today remained adverse to development of blackrust. Opening prices, which were unchanged to ½ cent higher with September 1.12½ to 1.13½ and December 1.14½ to 1.15½, were followed by a slight sag, then by fresh general gains.

The close was unsettled ½ cent decline to ½ cent advance with Sept. 1.12 to 1.13½ and December 1.14½ to 1.15½.

Primaries In Nebraska

OMAHA, NEB., July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Principal interest in the Nebraska primaries today centered in the race for the United States senatorial nomination on the republican ticket in which R. B. Howell, of Omaha, Republican national committee man, made his campaign "as a forward-looking Republican," with progressive policies.

Albert W. Jeffries, of Omaha, present congressman, C. H. Gustafson, head of the United States Grain Growers, Inc., John O. Veiser, of Omaha; Attorney General Clarence M. Davis, and Frank Jones, of Grand Island, also were contestants.

In the Democratic primary the voters were called upon to choose between Senator G. M. Hitchcock, Anthony T. Monahan, of Omaha, and J. O. Shreve, of Humboldt, for the senatorial nomination, the latter having been drafted by High Democrats, according to F. A. Hich, of the State Anti-Saloon League.

Progressives, who formed a third party at Grand Island, last December, were to choose between A. H. Bigelow, an Omaha attorney, and Arthur G. Wray, of York, prominent in the "Bull Moose" party in 1912, as their choice for the senate nomination.

The prohibitionists have a woman candidate for congress in the first district, Mrs. Luella Barton, of Lincoln, who was nominated without opposition.

Splendid Growth Shown By The Building And Loan Associations

COLUMBUS, O., July 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The Ohio Building and Loan Associations made a gain in their assets of $35,000,000 during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, according to his annual report filed today with Governor Davis by John W. Prugh, state superintendent of building and loan associations.

During the year 88 new building and loan associations were chartered, Ohio now having 890 of these institutions, with total assets of $500,000,000 and an authorized capital of $1,320,752,000.

The department, according to Superintendent Prugh, is more than self-supporting, turning into the state treasury a net profit for the year of $21,946,222, after all operating expenses were paid. There were no failures, nor did any depositor suffer a loss during the year. The records fail to show a loss to depositors in the last thirty years, the report says.

It is claimed by the building and loan men that their associations helped to finance 40,000 homes in the past six months and that they are prepared to assist the building of a like number during the next six months.

Hynicka's Endorsement OF Thompson Defied By Powerful Hamilton Co. Leaders

The Cincinnati Enquirer today published the following:
"Acknowledgment by R. K. Hynicka, Republican County Chairman and Ohio National Committeeman, of the authenticity of a letter written by him in favor of the nomination for Governor of Carmel A. Thompson, of Cleveland, Ohio, and the almost simultaneous denunciation of Colonel Thompson as 'the creature of the Anti-Saloon League' by Albert Boile, Republican Executive of the Fourteenth Ward, and one of the most powerful men in the Hamilton County Republican organization, were outstanding developments in the political situation yesterday."

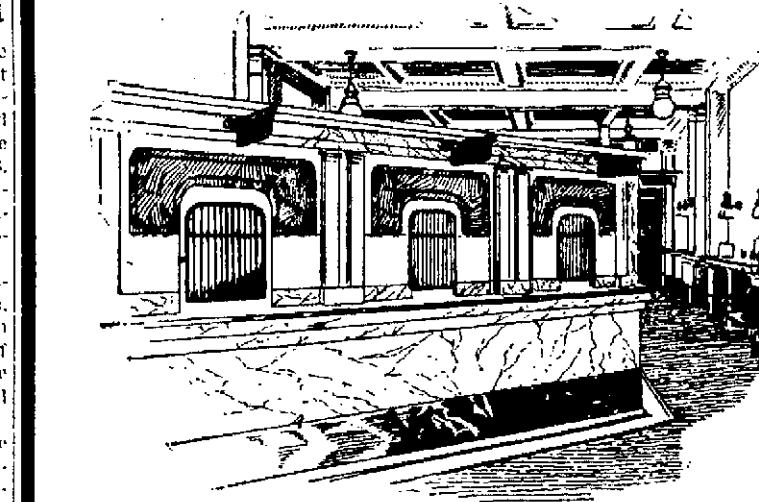

That there should be such a marked difference of opinion as indicated by the stand of Hynicka and Boile was the cause of even a greater sensation and a degree of consternation that the differences that marked the presidential preference primary campaign two years ago. Above every other element in the community the Republican organization in the past has kept "straight" with the so-called liberal interests in Hamilton County, particularly the brewers and the saloon keepers.

This always has been accounted its Gibraltar of strength and it was said the real reason why the Republican organization at its committee meetings, two weeks ago, did not frame a slate for endorsement in the primaries was that the proposed slate would commit it to a "dry" adherent for United States Senator, all four Republican candidates being accounted in the dry column.

WHITE SOX TAKE THIRD STRAIGHT AND CREEP UP ON YANKEES; REDS WIN IN THE TENTH INNING

Summary Of Main Happenings In The Major League Yesterday

NEW YORK, July 18.—Taking their third straight victory from the Yankees, after eleven innings of melodrama, the White Sox today were only two and a half games from the second place. New Yorkers had an entertaining, strong pennant aspirations.

After a four-run rally, including homers by Hooper and Mostil, apparently had a sewed up the game in the eighth, the Yankees came back to tie the score with two out in the ninth, only to see the White Sox put over the winning tally off Mays in the eleventh on pinch-hitter Strunk's single. Babe Ruth clouted his fifteenth homer in the seventh. Thirty-three players took part in the encounter, 18 Yankees and 15 White Sox.

The St. Louis-Washington game was stopped by rain in the third with the Senators ahead, 4 to 1, but the Browns had their lead increased to two games as a result of the Yankees' defeat.

Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker were prominent in their teams' victories. The Tiger leader clouting out five hits, including a double and a homer as his club trounced Boston 16-7, while the Cleveland manager's double and triple helped Ubbie check Philadelphia 5-0.

With their leadership of the National League threatened, the Giants got to work in the early innings for enough runs to take the third game of the series from St. Louis 3 to 2, and increase their margin at the top to a game and a half.

Chicago's eighth inning rally beat Philadelphia 3-2; Brooklyn returned to the west and dropped another game to Pittsburgh 8-5 when Vance blew up in the eighth, while Daubert's triple and Pinelli's single gave Cincinnati victory over Boston in the tenth, 8-7.

Hot Game Is Expected Tonight In The Industrial League

Games This Week

Tuesday, July 18—Central Labor vs Vulcan Last.

Wednesday, July 19—Excelsior vs Central Labor.

Thursday, July 20—Vulcan Last vs N. & W.

Friday, July 21—Central Labor vs Vulcan Last.

When "Shorty" Shultz and Joe Barber visited the Industrial League grounds last evening at five o'clock, they decided to call off the game between the Excelsior and Vulcan Last. The grounds would have permitted the playing of the game, but the two managers figured that it was only a question of time until rain would come down, which would put an end to the struggle. A fair sized crowd gathered at 5:30, and the fans were quite disappointed that they did not get to witness the game. However, while the grounds were in apple-pie order and the evening a perfect one, the two managers did what was best in their judgment. It was ten to one that it was going to rain and the grounds could not have stood much more water. The game will be played off next Tuesday evening.

Much interest is manifest in the game this evening when the Central Labor lads play Vulcan Last. It will no doubt be a battle between "Doc" Baughman for the Vulcanites and Otis Lewis for the Herder Herd. First place is at stake. Should the Central Labor boys win they will have a lead of a game and a half, but should the shoe be on the other foot the Vulcanites will be in front by a margin of half a game.

DeMarco Claims "Nig" Blair Has Been Avoiding Him

The following letter has been received from Charleston, W. Va., with a request that it be published in the hopes that the local fighter would answer:

Sporting Editor, Portsmouth Daily Times.

Again on behalf of Joe DeMarco, lightweight champion of West Virginia, I challenge "Nig" Blair. This is the third time I have done so. We have had two contracts from Mr. Dixon, matchmaker of the Portsmouth club to box Blair but on each occasion for some unexplained reason he has seen fit to run out.

If Blair considers himself a boxer of ability we are at a loss to understand why he is content to meet and defeat a collection of set-ups only.

As for DeMarco, he stands ready to meet Blair or any man in the country up to 142 lbs. or 145 lbs. under any conditions. As for Blair we are willing to box him on a winner-take-all basis and on any terms that he might name. The next move is up to him. If he refuses to box DeMarco he should be absent from the make-up of a boxer who aspires to make his mark in pugilism.

Joe DeMarco, lightweight champion of West Virginia.

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED BY JACKSON

Jackson is the first city to respond to Portsmouth's call to battle. The secretary of the Horsemesh Pitting Association yesterday received a letter from the mayor of Jackson, accepting Portsmouth's challenge and setting next Saturday as the time of meeting.

The Portsmouth horsemesh pitchers promptly accepted the time set, and the committee on arrangements selected eight pitchers and two alternates to go to Jackson. The committee selected new men as far as possible. It is the intention of the committee to pitch all ten pitchers if all ten show up, but if for some reason some one can't go at the last minute, one of the alternates will take his place on an eight man team. So one alternate is sure to pitch either way, and probably both.

The pitchers chosen are Craig, Stout, Dodge, Cook, Ogden, Hughes, Higgins and Prediger; Sam Ashworth and Dappis, alternates.

Cardinals Lose to McArthur

The Cardinals of this city took a strong lineup to McArthur Sunday but there they met a much better team than was expected, the game ending 6 to 4 in favor of the McArthur line. The locals outdid the McArthur team but could not hit with men on bases waiting to score. Foreman, box artist for McArthur, was very effective in the pinches. The box score:

Hughes was champion point maker with 76; Stout was second with 67; Rutherford and J. Massie third with 64 each.

Spring Street and Jackson Street staged a hot battle, Jackson winning 7 to 5. Kline and Rutherford were both their matches, defeating Ogden and E. Mitchell, 21-8, 21-11, 21-11, and W. Mitchell and Brady 21-12, 20-21, and 21-6. Crawford and Mooney won from W. Mitchell and Brady, 21-14, 21-18, 20-21, but lost to Ogden and E. Mitchell 15-21, 21-7 and 1-21. ## NO POLITICS IN TREASURY

THE public almost generally may be expected to approve the prompt and it is hoped effective rebuke which Secretary Mellon gave to the congressmen who signed a petition for the removal of about one hundred persons from the treasury department on partisan grounds.

When Secretary Mellon received the petition, in which it was charged that many Democrats were holding "key" positions in the treasury department, he lost no time in issuing a statement denying the claims, and asserting that he would not permit his department to be invaded by petty politics.

"The affairs of the treasury are of too great importance to allow of interference in its proper conduct through the introduction of petty politics," Secretary Mellon said. "This department, particularly the collection of revenues and the handling of the public debt, must be conducted on business principles and kept free at all times from detrimental influences."

After a vigorous declaration of that kind it is not surprising that many members of congress found it expedient to assert that they knew nothing about the plan to turn the treasury department over to job hunters. Those who signed the petition are not likely to press the matter in the face of the statement of Secretary Mellon.

Members of congress who sought to invade the treasury department in search of jobs for deserving constituents can hardly be blamed for trying to do something to strengthen their political prospects, for that is probably what prompted most of those who signed the petition. There is considerable pressure from "back home" these days, and every little job "has a meaning all its own."

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCNAUGHT

NEW YORK, July 18.—The appearance of the famed rifle shot Annie Oakley in New York has revived interest in the origin of the term "Annie Oakley" for the complimentary theatrical ticket. It is a fixed term on the Rialto for the pass.

Edward Smith, perhaps the best posted man in Gotham on underworld argot, declares the term was first employed by grafters with the Buffalo Bill show in which Miss Oakley was playing. The fact that passes are "shot full of holes," of course, supplies the key.

The circus grafters are the slied and wheel men, flat joint and brood workers, shillabars, stalls and dips and are the most prolific of all the big tent followers in supplying queer slang to the underworld and its fringes.

Still another reason for the term is explained by the fact that when Miss Oakley first appeared at a circus in Madison Square Garden a number of her pictures, ticket size, were scattered through the streets of the city. Finders were entitled to free admission.

Whatever the reason for the term, the average New Yorker has the "Annie Oakley" complex. Box office men are frequently asked to punch holes in tickets by the purchasers. It appears to be a mark of distinction—an indication that the producer or perhaps the star are personal friends.

One of the cut rate theatrical ticket agencies has a card in its tiny office reading: "We will be pleased to 'Annie Oakley' your tickets if desired." It has resulted in much business that the exchange would not have otherwise secured.

Now and then the theatrical producers, in a burst of thrift, wage war on the "Annie Oakley" with the stentorian cry "They shall not pass!" excluding all but the first night dramatic critics. But it doesn't last. The pass is as much a part of the theatre as the impertinent box office man.

He has written the music for 15 successful shows and like the rest of the Kings of Tin Pan Alley began his career as a piano player in a Coney Island beer hall in the days when Stauch's announced the opening of a fresh keg with the boom of a song. His tunes have been played all over America, England and France. Yet he had never been further away from New York than Atlantic City until one day last week he journeyed to Chicago. "Do you know," he told a friend, "it is surprising how many people there are outside of New York. In Chicago the streets were filled with them."

It's Fine Today

Sure this world is full of trouble
I ain't said it ain't!
Lord! I've had enough and double
Reason for complaint.
Rain an' storm have come to fret me,
Skies were often gray;
Thornis an' brambles have beset me
On the road—but say,
Ain't it fine today?

What's the use of always weepin'
Makin' trouble last?
What's the use of always keepin'
Thinkin' of the past?
Each must have his tribulation,
Water with his wine.
Life, it ain't no celebration,
Trouble? I've had mine,
But today is fine.

It's today that I am livin'
Not a month ago.
Havin' losin', takin', givin',
As time wills it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
Fell across the way.
It may rain again tomorrow,
It may rain, but say,
Ain't it fine today?

That's True

Bacon: He did. He said to walk and the wrinkles would go out with me.

SAMSON'S DEATH

THE Philistines gathered together to offer a sacrifice to Dagon their god because their enemy had been made captive. They brought Samson out of prison to make sport for them and set him between the pillars. Samson asked the lad who held him by the hand to let him feel the pillars. Then Samson prayed to the Lord, asking that strength be given him once more that he might be avenged upon the Philistines. Samson took hold of the pillars and bowed himself with all his might. The house fell upon all the people, killing great numbers, and Samson died with them.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Entries Coming In For Tennis Tourney

Plans for the Tennis Tournament in doubles are being completed fast. Already a dozen teams have entered and more are sending in their names every day. The entries remain open till Saturday night, and by that time a large number of teams should have entered.

The tournament will start on July 26, the next day of play being the 28th. After that in men's doubles and singles, Mondays and Thursdays will be the only days on which tournament games will be scheduled. Games will be scheduled at 5:30 p. m. and if the opposing team does not show up by 5:45, the game goes by default. If a player's partner cannot be present, he can get any outsider he wishes to play with him, only provided that he is not registered on another team in the tournament.

The ordinary elimination tournament has one objectionable feature, that is, that half the teams know they are going to be eliminated the first round. The Tennis Association has overcome this objectionable feature very nicely. The teams will be divided up into groups, say 6 or 8 in each group. Every team in each group will play every other team in that group, so the weakest team will be assured of at least 5 games. Then the two teams in each group, having the highest average will fight it out for the city championship. In this way if the two strongest teams happen to be in the same group whichever wins the first place they meet will get another crack at each other in the finals.
